

“WE’RE STILL HERE” SERIES 2021 SPECIAL SECTIONS CALENDAR

There’s not an aspect of American life to which African Americans have not made a contribution. Education. Medical care. Technology. Even the military. Throughout the year and one week of every month, The AFRO will dedicate an entire edition to how African Americans, despite extreme opposition, have survived, thrived, and contributed to EVERY aspect of American life. And “We’re Still Here.”

JANUARY

We’re Still Here:
Community Activists Make the Difference

Highlighting one of the best-known activists – the Rev. Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., but also many other volunteers, grassroots workers and organizations’ stories will be told in the edition.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

FEBRUARY

We’re Still Here:
Black Firsts

Firsts in the sciences, in technology, in medicine and much more will be shared in this Black History Month edition.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

MARCH

“We’re Still Here:
Preserving the Land

This special edition will highlight those past and present who have made and continue to make significant contributions to farming, agriculture and the overall sustainability of our land, helping to preserve our planet earth.

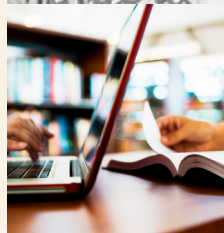

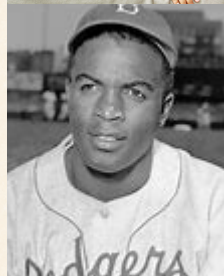

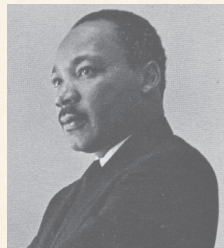

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

APRIL

We’re Still Here:
Building Black Wealth

From housing, business, along with our access to and accumulation of wealth, this edition will discuss where we go from here and how we can live our own dreams for building wealth.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

MAY

We’re Still Here:
Families of all Types

This edition will look at traditional and non-traditional families, same gender led families, foster and adoptive families, the Black Family Reunion and its unique characteristics.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

JUNE

We’re Still Here:
Singing Songs in the Key of Life

Black Music Month has never been as much fun as this edition that looks at the best of Black music and Black musicians.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

JULY

We’re Still Here:
Fighting for full Participation in all Sports

From the Negro Leagues to the Archives’ coverage of Sam Lacy’s coverage of MLB’s first, Jackie Robinson, this issue will cover greats in sports and the first Black owners.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

AUGUST

We’re Still Here:
Education in the Black Community

Black educators and the schools they started will be the focus of this edition. Both traditional and non traditional. It will also have a special emphasis on HBCUs.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

“WE’RE STILL HERE” SERIES 2021 SPECIAL SECTIONS CALENDAR

SEPTEMBER

We’re Still Here:

Fashion

This issue will look at Blacks in the fashion industry, nationally and locally, designers, models, producers and their audience and clientele.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

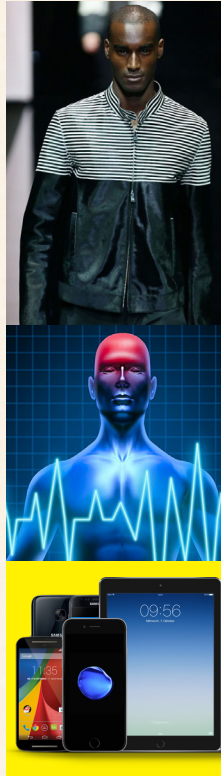

OCTOBER

We’re Still Here:

Maintaining Our Health

This special edition will feature articles, interviews and commentaries from experts and community members surrounding health issues prominent in the Black community and how we overcome the disparities.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

NOVEMBER

We’re Still Here:

Bolstered by the latest in Technology

Technology is a major part of our lifestyle. This issue will look at the Black pioneers and come forward, even showcasing the awardees in the Black Engineer of the Year Awards (BEYA).

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

DECEMBER

We’re Still Here:

Our Global Impact

This edition will showcase the global impact that people of color have had in business, arts, culture and the contributions we’ve made to the economies across the world.

PUBLICATION DATE:
.....

Contact and other information can go in this space